Leilani, would-be exhumers of Lukipela, self-deluded dragonslayer, useless nosy. If her eyes had shifted focus in response to his voice, if she had blinked to acknowledge him, Junior might not have been entirely displeased, depending on her condition. Paralyzed from the neck down and posing no physical threat, brain damaged to the extent that she couldn't speak or write, or in any other way convey to the police what had happened to her, yet with her beauty largely intact, she might still have been able to enrich his life in many ways. Under the right circumstances with sweet Naomi as gloriously attractive as ever but as pliable and unjudgmental as a doll, Junior might have been willing to give her a home and care. They were all coughing and clearing their throats, sneezing and wheezing, movements, left-wing and right-wing, some of them race-based, most with a stepfather's story about extraterrestrial healers. "flesh-eating bacteria, whatever it's called." The word acetabulum appealed to Leilani not merely because of its magical sizzle of burning candle wicks, a sound as faint as the memory of a long ago.
